

RELIEF IS IN SIGHT FOR ITALY TROOPS THRO ALPINE PASSES

MERCHANTS REPAIR KINDRED STREET

Holes and Craters in Thoroughfare from Fill to Third Avenue are Put in Passable Shape

No More Zigzagging Necessary Now, Cinders Used to Fill Dangerous Places in the Street

Kindred street merchants in Northeast Brainerd joined hands and improved that thoroughfare from the bridge fill to Third avenue. The public spirited men in the campaign were Swanson & Thone, C. W. Koering, Hugo A. Kaatz of Kindred street and A. A. Arnold of Fourth avenue. Craters and other dangerous places looking like shell holes on the west front in Europe were filled with cinders and leveled off. The street can now be traversed without any zigzagging, thus greatly lessening the dangers of collisions between cars.

Federal Government Intervenes in the Street Car Strike

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Nov. 27.—The federal government has intervened in the street car strike and Robert Coleman, chief naturalization examiner of St. Paul, has been appointed by Secretary of Labor Wilson to adjust the trouble, conferences being held and on account of curtailed service many patrons are walking in St. Paul. Bricks were thrown at the cars and a shot fired at a St. Paul car narrowly missing a woman passenger.

BATTLE FAVORS ITALY

Latins Win Defensively Then Advance.

Great Guns Pound Foe Lines Causing Great Losses—Airmen Locate Batteries Giving Gunners Range.

With the Italian Armies, Nov. 27.—The battle across the 11-mile gap between the Brenta and the Piava rivers, a crucial conflict, is swinging in Italy's favor.

Assume Offensive.

Fighting is indescribably bitter. Armies have been locked in a death grapple almost continuously for days. Italians are not only winning defensively, but in the past 48 hours have assumed the offensive. Their great guns have poured an almost ceaseless rain of shells on the German and Austrian lines.

Enemy Loses Heavily.

In two weeks it is estimated the enemy has lost 50,000 men and so far there has been no diminution in his attacks. Reinforcements after reinforcement have been hurled up and flung into the line.

Ridge Is Storm Center.

One ridge in the mountainous line changed hands three times in one day, its rocky contour literally blasted away by terrific artillery fire of both sides.

Italian aviators fluttering close over the enemy's lines have performed wonderful service in locating German and Austrian batteries. Their ranging has given the Italian guns an opportunity for deadly accurate shooting. Over one position behind a ridge Italian troops swarmed over to discover many of the enemy guns blasted out of their emplacements.

Situation Still Serious.

No effort is made to disguise the fact that the situation for Italy in the enemy's drive is still serious, but the morale of the army, officers and men, is probably the best it ever has been during the war and utmost confidence is expressed in ultimate victory.

Serious Strain in Friendly Relations Holland and U. S.

(Copyright 1917 by United Press)
The Hague, Nov. 27.—A serious strain in the traditionally friendly relations between Holland and America looms large on account of the strict enforcement of America's export restrictions which have affected not only the stomachs and minds of the Hollanders but has tempered their high regard for democratic America. Diplomatic negotiations are progressing meanwhile and public sentiment in Holland is daily becoming more bitter against America for what is regarded here as an incomprehensibly heartless attitude. Dr. Court Vanderlinden, premier of the Netherlands, interviewed, said Holland desires only what America would apply to her when President Wilson announced the principle of fair treatment to the small nations and a respect of their rights.

Wilson Not to Ask Congress for Declaration

(By United Press)
Washington, Nov. 27.—The United Press authoritatively learned that President Wilson will not ask for a declaration against Austria or against Germany's allies at the outset of congress, but will assume a watchful waiting attitude, for in the likelihood of Austria suing for separate peace the United States wants to be in a position to aid it.

FRITZ KREISLER Famous Austrian violinist, attacked, breaks concert dates.

Fritz Kreisler, famous Austrian violinist, announces that he has asked to be released from all existing contracts because of the attacks made upon him in different parts of the country. "Bitter attacks have been made upon me as an Austrian and because at the outbreak of the war I fought as an officer of the Austrian army on the Russian front," said a statement issued by Mr. Kreisler. "I have also been criticised for fulfilling engagements under contracts made long ago."

French Troops Pouring Through Alpine Passes

With the French Armies in Italy, Nov. 27.—The French troops are pouring through the Alpine passes and relief is in sight for Italy, and men and guns to roll back the would-be despoilers of Venice, are passing in seemingly never ending streams.

Blizzards Aiding Italians Holding Back the Austrian

(By United Press)
With the Italian Armies, Nov. 27.—Terrible blizzards are sweeping over the mountains and aid the Italians in holding back the Austrians. The heavy snow has halted the enemy artillery which is being moved, and has practically stopped reinforcements coming. The Italians reinforcements are almost ready for the trenches.

Allies will Break Western Line by Sapping Man Power

Washington, Nov. 27.—Secretary Baker's weekly war summary says the allies will break the western line by slow yet relentless sapping of Germany's man power, and says this sapping is more important than gaining ground. Germany is apparently confident that the entente withdrew large forces to save Italy. The report says the increased artillery in the sector where the Americans are training indicates the Teutons preparing for new raids.

Italian Front Same

Allied Council to Decide on all the Procedure

(By United Press)
Paris, Nov. 27.—The conference of the allies will be called upon to decide whether the nations fighting for democracy shall establish a single military dictator or create a military oligarchy to fight German military aristocracy. America's vote may decide as representatives here are united in desiring a united effort, but ideas divergent. The French favor the creation of a supreme generalissimo while the British want a war council in role of an advisory committee. The British fear trouble at home and of the British armies uncontrolled by the home government.

READY TO DRAFT ALIENS IN ARMY

CONGRESS TO ACT SOON

Provisions for Reciprocal Drafting of Subjects of One Country Who Are Resident in Another Country.

Washington, Nov. 27.—When Congress reconvenes Secretary Lansing will be prepared to submit a number of treaties authorizing reciprocal drafting for military service of citizens or subjects of one country resident within the other country, so far have negotiations between the United States and the Allies on the alien slacker problem progressed.

Approval of such treaties by the Senate has been foreshadowed by a general demand on Congress for action to reach aliens in this country of draft age. Several measures had been launched in the Senate and House requiring drafting of such persons, but at the suggestion of the State department and upon its promise to accomplish the purpose by regular method of treaty stipulation, that legislation was postponed.

Many Seek to Escape.

In the meantime a great many foreigners resident in the United States have hastened to file their declarations of intention to become American citizens, in many instances with the express purpose of escaping military service under their own flags in event of a roundup of aliens in the United States by British, French and Italian recruiting officers.

By filing these first papers the declarant renders himself liable to draft into the American army. There is only one chance in four of his being actually drafted as an American, however, even after registration.

Difference in Standards.

The British-American military service treaty will be framed as a model for those between the United States and other Allied countries, though there will be some minor differences because of varying laws fixing eligibility for military service.

FORTIFIED POSITIONS TAKEN

French Go Over Top in Brilliant Dash Near Verdun.

With the French Armies in France, Nov. 27.—The French troops in one large bite to the north of Verdun have annulled all the numerous nibbles which the Germans have made in the French lines since the crown prince's defeat at the end of August.

Along a front stretching from Smorguez eastward to the southern portion of Caures wood, the French artillery opened heavy gun preparation early on Sunday, which the Germans evidently regarded merely as an intensification of the artillery fire daily proceeding in this sector. Four hours later the French infantry went over the top and in one dash reached the first sections of the German line. Following the first waves came other waves, which overwhelmed and captured more than 800 Germans, who had held strongly fortified positions in two ravines leading eastward and northward into Caures wood.

The annual union Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the Methodist church. Rev. W. J. Lowrie will deliver the sermon taking for the subject "The Greatest Reason for Thanksgiving." An invitation is extended all those not engaged in worship in other places. There will be special music and an attempt is being made by the committee in charge to have a thanksgiving service which will be a profit and a privilege to attend.

Rev. W. J. Lowrie said: "In the midst of war and disorder God still reigns and the people have the right to believe that out of this chaos there is going to come a new birth of righteousness in individual hearts over all the earth."

"The reasons for thanksgiving are many and are growing more numerous as days pass and the attempt to Prussianize the world is proving abortive. Our shores are not strewn with the dead neither are our waters red with the blood of the soldier and the sailor."

"Never was there a time when greater reason existed for the whole people to gather in their churches and thank the giver of every good gift for His care during the past few years and to supplicate Him for further continuance of mercy."

"Penitence, confession, and supplication with thanksgiving must meet together in the place of worship if we are to expect a blessing upon our basket and our store, upon our home, and our nation."

REAR ADMIRAL COWLES DIES

Retired Naval Officer Had Been Ill Only a Week.

Redlands, Cal., Nov. 27.—Rear Admiral Walter Cleveland Cowles, retired, died at his home here after an illness of a week.

Admiral Cowles was 64 years of age and a native of Connecticut. His last active duty was as commander of the Pacific fleet, retiring in July, 1915, after filling this position a year. Previously Admiral Cowles had been commander of the United States naval station in Havana and also at the head of the Asiatic fleet.

FIFTY ITALIANS ARRESTED

Held by Milwaukee Police Following Bomb Explosion.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 27.—Fifty Italians have been arrested in a drag-net thrown out in the Third ward ward and are held by the police for investigation in connection with the bomb explosion in police headquarters.

Captain of Detectives Sullivan, who ordered the arrests, would make no statement, but it is understood that the action followed a partial confession of one of the men arrested earlier.

Aliens Given Time to Obey.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—United States Marshal Bradley has issued orders permitting enemy aliens "a reasonable length of time" in which to comply with President Wilson's proclamation barring such persons from certain "barred zones." Bradley estimated that about 12,000 persons come under the president's alien enemy classification in the city of Chicago, but he said only a small percentage of those lived or were employed within 100 yards of the docks, wharves or warehouses.

GAVE LIFE TO SAVE FELLOWS
U. S. Gunner Threw Explosives Overboard When Danger Came.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Osmund Pratt Ingram of Pratt City, Ala. the gunner's mate lost overboard when a German submarine attacked the American destroyer Casin, October 6, deliberately sacrificed his own life to save his mates.

A report from Admiral Sims shows that Ingram, standing aft, where some high explosive depth charges were stored, saw the torpedo coming. Instead of rushing forward to save his own life, Ingram stuck to the spot, throwing overboard the high explosives which he knew would further endanger the lives of his fellows if they were detonated by the torpedo. He was the only man lost, being blown overboard by the explosion. The Casin got in under her own steam.

MEDALS FOR SAMMIES

Cannot Wear Decorations Until Permission Is Given by Congress.

With the American Army in France, Nov. 27.—The French general commanding the sector in which the Americans were stationed at the time of the first German raid on the night of November 24 has cited 15 American officers and men and on these the French war cross has been conferred. The men were decorated and were informed that they might keep the medals in their possession, but must not wear them until Congress gives its authorization.

The ceremony was an impressive one. An American major general presented the decorations and citations, giving the regimental colonel those for the men who were killed. They will be sent to their next of kin.

The French general, in referring to the action of the company, said: "On the night of November 23, this company which was in the line for the first time met an extremely violent bombardment, when it seized arms and offered such stubborn resistance that the enemy though numerically superior, was obliged to retire."

The general specially cited in the order of the day Corporal James D. Brosham and Privates Merle D. Hay and Thomas F. Enright, "who died bravely in hand to hand fighting with the enemy who had penetrated the first line."

The others cited were Lieut. William H. McLaughlin, Lieut. R. O. Patterson, Lieut. E. F. Erickson, Sergeant John Greenwood, Corporals David M. Knowles and Homer Givens and Privates Charles Massa, William D. Thomas, George Hurd, Royce C. Wade, Robert Winkler and John J. Jarvis.

TO REDUCE BEER STRENGTH
Alcoholic Contents to Be Cut to Three Per Cent.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Orders reducing the alcoholic content of beer to 3 per cent will be issued soon by the food administration with the approval of President Wilson. At the same time the amount of grain used by brewers will be cut down approximately 30 per cent, although the volume of beer will not be decreased.

The food administration points out that since there is in the country two or three years' supply of whisky it is undesirable at the present time to stop entirely the brewing of beer, because of the possibility of driving the people to whisky drinking. The social question involved, it is declared, must be given equal consideration with that of food conservation.

ANDERSON-ANDERSON
PETERSON-PETERSON
STILL NOT RELATED

What's the use of changing one's name even to get married?

There is no necessity of it, as was indicated for the fifth time this year at the clerk of district court's office at Duluth.

Names like Anderson and Peterson have been thoroughly perpetuated during 1917, and yesterday there was a double header at the marriage license desk.

Elmer Anderson obtained a license to marry Sophy Anderson and Edward F. Peterson gained by license the right to wed Olive T. Peterson.

The above from the Sunday Duluth News Tribune refers to the brother of Edw. Anderson of this city who was married to Miss Anderson in Duluth.

The Anderson-Anderson wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Anderson of Duluth Heights. The home is some distance from the car lines.

Before the contemplated peaceful departure of the bride and groom a party of about 30 friends in several touring cars arrived on the scene, having apparently made a previous raid on Woolworth's large establishment, judging from the great number of useful presents produced, each of which had a card attached setting forth the usefulness of the same.

The bride was then kidnapped and the party minus the groom were soon speeding eastward.

That their plans had been carefully laid soon became evident, for when the unfortunate groom tried to press his car into service for pursuit, he discovered that the ignition apparatus had been disabled and even the telephone had been temporarily put out of commission. An accomplice had been purposely left behind who in due time very graciously set things right so far as the car was concerned and the search for the lost bride was on in earnest.

Mr. Anderson is a popular traveling man of the John Wahl Candy Co. force and city salesman. They will make their home on John Avenue, Superior, Wis., and will be at home after December 1.

TRIMMING MAKES THIS HAT

Every now and then the trimming can go a long way to making the hat. That is exactly what has happened to this large hat. If it were not for the usual trimming the hat would probably be classed as ordinary. It is a stunning black velvet model, and has the new brim, narrow front and back and wide at both sides. The crown and fanciful cascade are of uncurled ostrich feathers.

NEW VESTS MEET WITH FAVOR

Substitute for Blouses, Fashioned After the Sleeveless Sweater, Are Worn Only With Coats.

Among the amazing quantity of new gowns shown there are so many waistcoats that appear to be substitutes for blouses that no one can miss them.

They are fashioned after the manner of sleeveless sweaters, these new vests, and they are made in white panne velvet, tan-colored jersey cloth, Borden satin, apple green velveteen, leather-colored suede and midnight blue corduroy. They are worn only with coats that can drop open in front. Many of them have little belts across the front, which look as though they belonged in the back. They are narrow, with merely a conventional manish buckle to fasten the ends. They are single-breasted and some of them are cut to the neck and then flare upward above the chin in a collar of their own fabric.

Buff-colored corduroy, with flat gilt buttons is the kind of waistcoat that has been taken up with the colonial blue cloth suit, and when one adds to such a costume the new modified George Washington hat with its colonial brim flaring back over the crown, the imaginative onlooker sees a symbol of the "spirit of '76."

GALLANT HOME TALENT PLAY

PERSONNEL OF THE ORCHESTRA

One-Half of the Net Proceeds go to the Red Cross—Seat Sale Started on Tuesday

(Communicated)
There have been home-talent affairs in the old days which have come down in Brainerd history and to which the old-time people refer with pride and pleasure. Such an event will be "The Panorama of Palm Beach," a community affair from start to finish. The sixty or more people taking part will in the years to come look back upon these good old happy days.

The hard work and difficulties to be overcome will be forgotten, and only the success and the good times remembered. And those who know the production believe its career will not be limited to Brainerd, but that Brainerd will have had the honor not merely of having something but of starting something.

Edwin Harrie Bergh as a conductor of music is already well and favorably known. Mr. Bergh has been most ably assisting Mrs. Clyde E. Parker, postponing the Symphony concert which had been planned for about this time that there might be no conflict of interest. The Symphony concert is expected to come off early in January.

Mrs. Walter F. Wieland at the piano as directress of the orchestra is so able and so well known that any words of commendation are superfluous.

The men assisting Mrs. Wieland all stand high in their ability to handle their various instruments, and the young people are known as earnest and successful students.

The personnel of the orchestra:

First Violins—Julius Witham and Edwin Lee.

Second Violins—Alice Johnstone, and Kathleen Gemmell.

Viola—Harold Opsahl.

Cello—William Rodenkirchen.

Bass—John Gemmell.

Cornet—William Graham.

Trombone—Henry Krause.

Drums—Geo. W. Putz.

A large attendance of the play one night, would have been assured, and cleared a handsome sum.

Only a full house on both nights will compensate the organization under whose auspices "The Panorama of Palm Beach" is given for its plan of donating one-half the net proceeds to a patriotic fund. However such is the spirit of patriotism which has entered into all the undertakings of both pastor and people of St. Paul's Episcopal church since the beginning of the war, that whatever the outcome of the plan financially, it cannot be regretted.

Catechism Class

Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock the regular session of the Catechism class will be held at the Methodist church. Parents are requested to remind the young folks of the change in date this week from Thursday to Wednesday so that Thanksgiving day may be free.

PUBLISHERS WIN FIGHT

U. S. Fixes Price of News Print Paper at 3 Cents Per Pound.

Six of Seven Indicted Manufacturers Agree to Accept Price and Conditions.

New York, Nov. 27.—Until April 1 news print paper manufacturers, representing 85 per cent of the print paper output of the country, will sell news print to publishers at 3 cents a pound.

After that the price is to be fixed by the Federal Trade commission under an agreement reached by the government and six of the seven paper manufacturers charged with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Edward W. Backus, president of the Minnesota and Ontario Paper company and the Fort Francis Pulp and Paper company, did not agree to the 3-cent price up to April 1, but asked that the Federal Trade commission fix the price after Jan. 1.

The agreement is said to be satisfactory to the Publishers' association. It was the outcome of the government's prosecution of George H. Mead, chairman of the executive committee of the News Print Manufacturers' association; Philip T. Dodge, president of the International Paper company; Edward W. Backus, George Chahoon, Jr., and G. M. P. Bould, comprising the executive committee of the News Print Manufacturers' association; Alexander Smith, banker, and Frank J. Sosenbrenner, paper manufacturer.

WILL INSPECT EXPLOSIVES

Minnesota and North Dakota Men Are Named For Office.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Madison C. Bowler of Minneapolis has been appointed inspector of explosives for Minnesota, a department that will operate under the direction of the bureau of mines. William P. Porterfield of Fargo was appointed for North Dakota. Mr. Bowler was recommended for the position by National Committeeman Fred O. Lynch. His duties will be to see to it that any man using or having explosives in his possession without a license will be subject to arrest.

The salary of the inspector of explosives will be $2,000 a year. He will have deputies named in each county.

FALL OF JERUSALEM NEAR

Capture by British Is Momentarily Expected.

London, Nov. 27.—Over practically the same ground that Richard, the Lion Hearted, led his armored knights, British cavalry has charged and today the Holy City, for which Christendom has paid thousands of lives to redeem from the Turks, is within the grasp of the British.

London—In fact all the world—is awaiting breathlessly word of the city's capture. The tomb of Christ is within range of the British guns, and siege of the city is expected to begin soon.

"Fightingest Town in Country."

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 27.—The "fightingest town in the country" is Orleans, Cal. Other cities gave freely of their sons when Uncle Sam entered the war, but Orleans gave all of hers. When war broke out with Germany there were 17 young men in the town eligible for military service. They enlisted to a man.

OUT OF SCHOOL NAMES REPORTED

State Department of Labor Will be Asked to Send Special Deputy to Assist in Rounding Up

VIOLATORS OF THE SCHOOL LAW

Warning Issued to be on the Alert in Matter of Contagious Diseases, Especially Small Pox

In response to the request published last month concerning children of school age unlawfully out of school, a few names have been reported to the secretary of the school board or to the superintendent and, in every instance, the cases have been looked up and the matter taken up with the chief of police and the county attorney. For the most part, the cases reported have been those of chronic offenders with whom the police court as well as the schools have for years been at their wits end to know what to do. The state department of labor will be called upon to send a special deputy to assist local authorities in rounding up violators of the compulsory school law and the child labor law, if such is deemed necessary.

As winter approaches, the schools have been advised by the city health officer to be especially alert in the matter of contagious diseases. Smallpox is already stirring in some of the nearby towns, and it is not at all unlikely that a run of this disease somewhat similar to that of last year will be experienced. A brief explanation at this time concerning smallpox and the state regulations concerning the same may not be out of place. The state regulations for smallpox impose a quarantine upon the party affected with the disease but do not impose a quarantine on the house or premises provided the patient be isolated. Under such conditions, other members of the family, if vaccinated, may enter and leave the premises at will, and the children might if vaccinated, attend school as usual. This is merely a statement of the state regulations concerning this particular disease and is published for general information purposes so that the charge of carelessness may not attach to the schools in case a contingency such as the above should happen. In all matters relating to public health, the schools act subject to the orders and directors of the city health officer. In the matter of contagious disease, it is frequently assumed, and perhaps correctly, that the schools are a danger center for the spread of same, especially if rooms be overcrowded or poorly ventilated. On the other hand, however, the schools may be a great source of safety and of much assistance to the health officer in detecting and locating suspicious symptoms of dangerous diseases in the early stages. In carrying out the directions of the health officers, namely: That teachers should be especially alert to discover symptoms that might prove to be serious, parents are asked to give their cordial support and co-operation. If it should be necessary for a child to be sent home with a request to see the family physician or city health officer before returning to school, parents should not take offense or consider the school or teacher dictatorial even if it be true that the child has no serious ailment. The community health should be safeguards as far as possible by all good citizens and minor inconveniences and personal pride should be subordinated to the public good. There are numerous homes in the city that for various reasons seldom call a physician, and it frequently happens, in fact has happened this year, that children attending school have been stricken with dangerous maladies before any one was aware of the danger.

It has been suggested that school hours, particularly in the first two grades be too long for the children of six and seven years. This could easily be remedied, if it should be the general feeling of parents as well as physicians. The school session for these lower grades, exclusive of recesses, runs two hours and a quarter in the morning, and one hour and forty-five minutes in the afternoon. Most of the primary teachers, however, devote a part of this time to game exercises with the children that are of the nature of relaxation. If these hours are too long, or too much of a strain for the health and physical development of the little folks, mothers should let the teachers know their views.

A communication has just been received at the school from the Division Manager of the American Red Cross, for the Northern Division, concerning the organization of Junior Red Cross auxiliaries in the schools. The matter has been taken up with the local teachers, and as soon as the separate schools are able to meet the organization requirements, the school auxiliaries will be started. It is quite probable that the high school will be the first to organize and secure the certificate, banner, and Red Cross button, as the high school can the more easily secure the necessary treasury fund of twenty-five cents per pupil for the entire enrollment.

A manual of school activities is now in preparation at headquarters in Washington, which will soon be distributed to the schools of the country as a guide, and to standardize the work. These Junior Red Cross auxiliaries will doubtless be started in most of the schools of the country, the rural work under the direction of the county superintendent and the independent districts under the direction of their local school officials. Miss Sheldon and Miss Keene, of our home economics department, have for some time been collecting data and formulating plans for junior work among the upper grade and high school girls through the sewing department of the school. For some time they have been assisting the local chapter in such work as was adapted to girls of that department, and with the completion of the junior organization, the greater part of their activity will be devoted to Red Cross work.

The starting of Red Cross activities in the schools will in no way interfere with the efforts already started among the pupils in food conservation, and the plans for spreading the doctrine of food conservation through the schools in general, and the cooking department, especially, will continue systematically throughout the year. Miss Sheldon has already turned in nearly four hundred pledge cards through the efforts of her girls in the cooking department and the efforts of the principals of the several schools. The home discussions that have been aroused through these conservation efforts and the avoidance of waste resulting therefrom will be of permanent value to many a household even after the war is over.

The subject of German instruction in the schools has come into the limelight in various quarters of the state during the past few months, and quite recently in a number of the range towns of the north. The matter has been under consideration by the state department of education acting in conjunction with the State Public Safety Committee and considerable data has been collected from the schools, covering such questions as the extent of the study of German in both grades and high school and the nature of the text books used. The whole matter has been gone into extensively by a committee selected from the several sections of the state. While it is too early as yet to form final judgment as to the ultimate policy in this matter, for the present it has apparently seemed best to those who have had charge of the investigation to recommend that no hasty action be taken, that objectional text books be immediately discarded, and that the schools, generally, await future developments. In most of the cities, similar to our own, the study of German in the high school is purely elective, the classes are not large in number, and only two years' work is offered. It is not at all improbable that the matter will attend to adjust itself by another year or until such time as a uniform state policy may be worked out. It has been very strongly recommended by leading educators, both state and national, including President Wilson, that in the schools every effort be made to prevent matters of racial hatred or controversy from arising. There is no doubt that from now on redoubled efforts will be made throughout the schools of the country to emphasize the supreme necessity of the English language for all children in the schools, of whatever nationality, and that Americanism and American institutions and American government be taught to every child old enough to understand. In the matter of elimination of subject matter from a course of study, if necessity arises, the state will doubtless take action for all the schools.

The usual Thanksgiving offerings will be collected in all the school buildings, for the poor, and the same will be turned over to the Associated Charities for the Thanksgiving baskets. During the last few weeks, the school stereopticon has been used to good advantage in all the schools. The beautiful National Park colored slides loaned through the courtesy of the Northern Pacific railway were viewed by more than one thousand pupils and parents, and other sets will be employed from time to time. The slides used in the school lantern are not selected at random, but are educational views designed especially to present features of geography or history in a vivid and concrete manner. The city schools will close for the Christmas vacation on Friday, Dec. 21, and will reopen on Monday, Jan. 7.

Grade cards for the second six weeks period in the high school were given out on Monday afternoon.

The number of pupils whose names appear on the Honor Roll was increased some what over that of the first period. The following is the list of students on the Honor Roll:

ALLIES' BREAK WITH RUSS NEAR

If Separate Peace Is Sought Entire Envoys May Demand Passports at Once.

ARMY IS FOR ARMISTICE

Adopts Resolution Favoring Peace and Endorsing Government of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates.

Petrograd, Nov. 27.—According to a dispatch from Haparanda the ministers of the Allied powers at Petrograd will demand their passports if Russia enters into separate peace negotiations with the Teutons.

Envoys to Ignore Trotsky.

London, Nov. 27.—The Times Petrograd correspondent says he has learned from an authentic source that there was a meeting of the foreign ambassadors at the American embassy at which it was decided to ignore the note of Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik foreign minister, demanding an armistice. It was decided, the correspondent adds, to treat the note as if it had not been received.

Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch, brother of the former emperor, according to a Petrograd dispatch to the Times, has been arrested and imprisoned in Smolny institute, the headquarters of the Bolsheviks.

Second Army For Armistice.

Petrograd, Nov. 27.—A congress of the second army, with one dissenting vote, has adopted a resolution approving all the measures promulgated by the Council of National Commissioners, including the decree for an immediate armistice and peace and favoring the government of the Workmen's and Soldiers' delegates.

The resolution appeals to all soldiers not to support Premier Kerensky and the provisional government generals "against the people."

The most striking passage in the resolution follows:

"The second army, with arms in its hands, will defend the authority of the Workmen's and Soldiers' delegates and the national committee. At the first order of the military revolutionary committee of the second army, which is clothed with full power, we will advance as one man against counter revolutionists in the rear as well as at the front."

The Maximalist commissioners have proclaimed the abolition of class titles, distinctions and privileges. All persons henceforth are citizens of the Russian republic.

Ominous Reports From Front.

London, Nov. 27.—A belated dispatch to Reuters Limited from Petrograd, dated November 21, says:

"Commanders at the front continue to send in most ominous dispatches concerning the exhaustion of supplies and report of forthcoming hungry hordes of soldiers invading the centers of population."

Goldbeating an Ancient Art.

Goldbeating as an industry is as ancient and honorable as it is fascinating and wonderful. It is practiced in almost exactly the same way today as it was by goldworkers of ancient Greece and still more ancient Egypt. Incredible as it may seem, there are well-authenticated instances of gold having been beaten down to more than the three hundred thousandth part of an inch in thickness or thinness.

"You know it is not an easy matter to get children to take medicine, and forcing it on them does no good. Most mothers know that a cough medicine, while palatable, should contain no drug injurious to the child."

THOMAS CONGDON PASSED AWAY

"MUSIC MASTER" MASTERPIECE

First Fame Came When He and His Wife Commissioned to Paint for the Rothschilds

Thos. R. Congdon, the well known artist, etcher and painter, died in Boston of diabetes and complications at the age of 59.

Mr. Congdon was a resident of Brainerd in the early days and will be remembered by the older residents.

In 1886 he left here for New York where he studied three years and then went to Paris where he established a studio and later on he and his wife, who is also a fine artist, were given a commission by the Rothschilds, to paint scenes in Holland, their native land, for a whole year.

Later they traveled extensively in Europe and also maintained a studio in Venice. Mr. Congdon made frequent trips to America and on the eve of his departure on his last trip to Paris he attended a play in New York called the "Music Master," played by E. H. Sothern and company and on the voyage he conceived and drew sketches of the play and on his arrival he painted his masterpiece called "The Music Master," which took first prize in the art salon in Paris in that year and was afterward sold to Mr. Sothern while on his European tour.

He spent 16 years in the old world and when he returned to this country in 1914, he held the office of president of the Artists League, Paris, France, for three years. One of his etchings is now in the public library in Brainerd. His nephew, H. W. Congdon, also has some of his work done in Holland, Italy and France.

The late Mrs. C. N. Savart of Fargo was a sister and F. B. Congdon of Oak Lawn is a brother and he leaves a sister, Mrs. Kame, of Sebastopol, Cal., and Mrs. Nado another sister of Tacoma, and another brother, W. H. Congdon of Gresham, Ore., who visited here last May.

CLAIMED SOLD INDIANS LIQUOR

Stephen Batters of Little Falls was arrested by Indian agents charged with selling liquor to Indians. The arrest occurred near Wabikon and he was brought to Brainerd before U. S. Commissioner W. A. Fleming for a hearing. He was bound over to the federal court in bonds of $500. Batters is an enlisted man.

ROLL OF HONOR

Werner Hemstead, Jr., who has seen service in the quartermaster's department at El Paso, Texas, has been honorably discharged on account of physical disability. Should he regain his health, he will again enter service. He was in the hospital at the camp nine or ten weeks.

ELECTRICITY FOR FIVE CENTS A DAY

It is impossible of course to say definitely just what a Delco light plant will cost to operate. This will vary with the amount used and some people use more than others.

But we are able to state the usual cost on the average farm. This is about five cents a day and can be verified by asking any Delco light user in the county.

Can you imagine anything that you could buy for five cents a day that would give you anything like as much comfort or help you half as much in your work?

A Delco light demonstration will be made at your home at any time you may request.

COME FROM WAR STRICKEN EUROPE

Jacob Borkon will soon be joined by his wife and children who have seen three years of the European war. They lost many of their possessions in the Russian advance through Poland. Three times they were driven out by the German advances in Poland. Wife and children managed to escape and traveled through Russia over the Siberian railway and got to Yokohama. Today Borkon sent them money for their passage to Brainerd, and it will be a joyful reunion when they come to Brainerd.

FINAL CALL FOR DRAFT ELIGIBLES

"Men who have registered for draft will not be accepted for volunteer enlistments, in any branch of the U. S. Army after Dec. 15th," said Major John D. Yost, in charge of Duluth recruiting district last night. "This," he continued, "is the order contained in a message from Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder at Washington. The order states that we are to receive no applications for enlistment after such time as will allow the completion of enlistment before Dec. 15th. This means, that the time limit for the district will be Dec. 9th."

"This ruling will affect a large number of men whose names now stand far down on the list in the draft. Many registrants have been watching closely the proceedings in their respective precincts. Many have stated that when the call heard their names they would enlist. This order will prevent such action."

"The registered men of the nation have until Dec. 9th in this district to join the U. S. army as volunteers."

The completion of enlistment in this district requires from two to six days. Major Yost has placed the time limit at Dec. 9th in order to allow for the maximum of delay in recruiting.

The foregoing statement is published for the benefit of those to whom it applies, now is the time to enlist in the branch of service you desire. Registered men in the Brainerd recruiting district have twelve days to volunteer, so now is your opportunity.

Men with mechanical trades are especially desired for the aviation, engineers, field artillery and coast artillery; skilled and unskilled laborers for all branches of the service. All applicants should apply at the local recruiting station, post-office building, between the hours of 8 A. M. and 8 P. M.

FARMER HURT IN RUNAWAY

Pillager, Minn., Nov. 27—Frank Carlson was severely injured in a runaway just before the afternoon passenger train arrived from Staples. His legs were broken and back and head bruised. Carlson was taken to Brainerd on the train where his injuries were attended to at a hospital.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Best Tomorrow and Thursday

Hall Caine, the film version of whose novel, "The Manx-Man" will be shown at the Best theatre Wednesday and Thursday, as the Thanksgiving special, may be said to be one of the few authors of our times who has an original point of view concerning woman. And it is original by virtue of the fact that his philosophy is as old as the philosophy of Christ, paradoxical as that may seem.

"When a good woman falls from honor," writes Mr. Caine in "The Manx-Man," "is it merely that she is the victim of momentary intoxication, of stress of passion, of the fever of instinct? No. It is mainly that she is a slave of the sweetest, tenderest, most spiritual and pathetic of all human fallacies—the fallacy that by giving herself to the man she loves she attaches him to herself forever. This is the real betrayer of nearly all good women that are betrayed. It lies at the root of tens of thousands of the crimes that make up the merciless story of man's sin and woman's weakness. Alas, it is only the woman who clings the closer. The impulse of the man is to draw apart. He must conquer it or she is lost. Such is the old cruel difference and inequality of man and woman as nature made them—the old trick, the old tragedy."

"CAMP DODGER" A FINE JOURNAL

Official Paper of the 88th Division and First National Army Newspaper Published

CARRIES CAMP CARTOONISTS

The Daily Record of Army Life Will Make its Files of Real Historical Value

"The Camp Dodger," official paper of the 88th division, is the first national army newspaper ever published and it is a fine example of newspaper work, portraying daily life at Camp Dodge where many of the Crow Wing county boys of Minnesota are being trained.

The issue of November 23 is 12 pages, and the pages are eight column ones. The editor-in-chief is Lieut. L. R. Fairall. The staff and contributors number many trained newspaper men, for newspapers have their fighting editors and the large proportion jumped in and enlisted. It gives the lie to the assertion sometimes made that newspaper men usually do all their fighting with ink or mouth.

The cartoons carried are alive to the situation in present day European fighting. The one labelled "It's Up to Us," shows Germany pushing the face of Italy and cutting through France and John Bull's interference while near the goal post is Uncle Sam ready to tackle the flying Hun.

An editorial takes up the question of "The Makins," something which has been agitated in Brainerd at the time of the tabernacle and at other periods.

It is most interesting to read such an editorial when written by soldiers themselves, for they certainly ought to know what they are writing about. It states:

"Attention is again directed toward organized groups of American women who are receiving much publicity in their attempts to thwart the purpose of the 'Smokes for Soldiers' campaign being conducted throughout the country."

"Arguing from a highly intellectual plane they represent that the money invested in 'smokes' is wasted and could be much better utilized in charitable work instead of nurturing and maintaining a 'pernicious' habit."

"They fail to take cognizance of the fact that relief must be given for the excitable tedium of military life both in the trenches and in training. They do not realize that tobacco is a practically harmless mental sedative and easiest obtainable agent of relaxation that the soldier can appreciate."

"They do not remember that in looking after the welfare of his men almost every commanding general of the present war, regardless of nationality, has specified that tobacco was a necessity in maintaining the morale and insisted upon its being a part of the regular ration."

"The American government, new in the conflict, has left this part of the soldiers' comfort to be filled by the regimental exchange or canteen—apparently deciding that tobacco is a luxury. If that is the true reason, it is all the more reason for a steady flow of 'smokes' to the soldiers in war. They need whatever luxury can be spared at home."

"But the urgent calls from France for American tobacco shows the inability of the 'canteen' to cope with the situation under actual war conditions. That is the field filled by the 'Smokes for Soldiers' campaign."

"While the insidious attempts to stem the stream of packaged comfort will prove futile it may be that the influence will reach a few of the narrow minded. But these can well be spared as contributors to the tobacco barrels and boxes."

"There should be no let-up in the 'Smokes for Soldiers' campaign." Pages of photographs are shown. Cartoons also appear from the pens of P. L. Crosby featuring the troubles of the rookie from the 13th squad, and Private Kelly of the 133th Engrs.

The files of the "Camp Dodger" should be religiously preserved. The Civil and Mexican wars had nothing like it. Neither has Europe with its little trench journals. The "Camp Dodger" gives army life in the making.

We salute the "Camp Dodger!"

The paper can be secured at the Louis Hohman news stand in this city.

D. D. Schrader of Pequot, well known business man, has been appointed a district agent of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York and will have supervision over eighty or more agents, his territory extending from Sauk Center, Benton county north to Itasca county and including all of the northern part of the state except Duluth.

Life insurance business is no new line of work for Mr. Schrader, for operating for the same company in Florida he made a great record there and wrote many policies.

Local agents here are Walter F. Wieland and Albright & Hartley. The late James M. Elder carried a $20,000 policy in the Mutual Life of New York.

Today the Elder estate was paid a $10,000 check by Mr. Schrader. The other $10,000 is payable to Mrs. Elder who under its terms receives $500 a year the rest of her life with the guarantee of 20 payments. If she dies, her share goes to the estate.

Cunboat Smith Talks

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 27—Although he does not appear to have one chance in 1,000 to win, Cunboat Smith today was talkatively optimistic about his boxing match with Fred Fulton, Rochester, Minn., giant tonight. Smith weighs 175, compared with Fulton's 220. In reach and height, Fulton has a distinct advantage over Smith. The Minneapolis Athletic club is in charge of the fight battle.

Deserter Sentenced to Death. Washington, Nov. 26—Sentence of death before a rifle squad has been imposed by a court-martial upon an enlisted man of the American army in the United States on his conviction of desertion with intent to join enemy forces. It was learned at the war department, however, that officials here are not satisfied at evidence adduced before the court that intent to join the enemy was established and the trial court has been asked for additional information to clear up the point.

LESTER PRAIRIE OUTRAGE TRIAL

Glencoe, Minn., Nov. 27—The trial of Dr. E. A. Daggett, veterinary surgeon at Lester Prairie, charged with participation in the attack on the Klatt family, because the Klatts dared to express themselves as being Americans and favoring America's course in the war, opened today before Judge C. M. Tift. Daggett is one of ten men who have been indicted.

John P. Hoy, a private detective hired by patriotic citizens to ascertain the leaders of the mob, is one of the principal witnesses to be placed on the stand by the state. He will swear that Daggett was one of the masked rioters who attacked the Klatts.

The attack on the hotel which the Klatt family ran at Lester Prairie, is perhaps one of the most startling cases of disloyalty in the annals of Minnesota history. The Klatts were patriotic. They refused to join in singing "Die Watch Am Rhine," and other pro-German exercises. They bought liberty bonds and aided the Red Cross.

As a punishment for being American, the Klatts were brutally assaulted one night last summer. A mob of masked men appeared at the Klatt hotel late in the evening. The Klatts had retired. Klatt and his older son were called in their night clothes, into the yard and were severely beaten. A sixteen year old Klatt girl ran out to remonstrate and acid was thrown in her eyes. She was blinded for life. Mrs. Klatt remonstrated and was beaten.

That the trial will last for several days and will probably be the starting of a long series of legal battles, was freely predicted today.

Increases Profanity.

"The telephone," says William Lyon Phelps in the New Republic, "has surely spread the habit of cursing. As Figaro says, 'To get your telephone connection is no longer an achievement; it is a career.' Learning to play the typewriter has also loosened the tongue. A friend wrote me—he is a professor in a woman's college—that in playing his machine he had discovered in his nature depths of depravity hitherto undreamed of. But golf has done more for swearing than any other modern employment; it has made tactful gentlemen as efficient as teamsters. The disappointments of golf are so immediate, so unexpected, so overwhelming. Nearly all men, and women, too, must swear naturally in their thoughts; else how explain such easily acquired proficiency?"

Liverpool's Girl Conductors.

"Does this car travel by Dale street or by Church street?" asked an anxious passenger as he stepped aboard at the corner of Tunnel road, Liverpool, during a darkness which could be felt. "I do not know," was the girl conductor's naive reply. When the passenger expressed surprise coupled with pain, as he had fear of missing the last train to Southport, the conductor added the explanation that her "duty was merely to collect the fares," and she "had nothing to do with the route the car might take." With this the belated one had fain to be content.

Old Looks?

(BY DR. V. M. PIERCE)

Persons suffering from too much uric acid in the system frequently look older than they should. They age faster and the appearance of gray hair or baldhead in early years is, indeed, often a sign of uric acid. The face appears lean and sagged, lines and wrinkles appearing in young men or women.

The best way to combat this premature age and the obstruction to the arteries and faulty circulation is of the simplest: Drink copiously of pure water between meals. This will not make you fat, as it is only the water taken with the meals that fattens. Obtain at any drug store a small package of Anuric, which is to be taken before meals, in order to expel the uric acid from the system. The painful effects of backache, lumbago, rheumatism, gout, due to uric acid in the blood should quickly disappear after treatment with Anuric.

SUFFERING UNBEARABLE.

WOMEN EVERYWHERE

Brainerd, Minn.—"For a number of years I suffered with woman's weakness. At times my suffering was most unbearable. I had backaches which would run down through my sides. I could not seem to find any medicine that would give me the least relief until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and one bottle completely cured me of my ailment. I have since become the mother of a fine baby boy and he, as well as myself, is in the best of health. This medicine did wonders for me and I am only too glad to recommend it to weak and ailing women."—Mrs. E. D. WADSWORTH.

WAR ON KAISER'S ALLIES IS URGED

Senator Stone, Former Pacificist, Says Move Would Simplify Matters.

AUSTRIANS IN WEST

May Be Facing Americans—Nations Declared Virtually At War—Stone Now Backs Administration.

Washington, Nov. 27.—From two sources come hints that this country will not much longer remain in the position of being compelled to protect herself from attacks while yet not warring upon Austria, and probability that the anomalous situation will be cleared by a declaration of war by the United States against the German ally.

Senator Lewis of Illinois and Senator Stone of Missouri both declared pointedly that the United States should declare war on all the allies of Germany.

Washington, Nov. 27.—"Exceedingly advisable to simplify a situation now anomalous" is the reason given by Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, for declarations of war by the United States against Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria. Opposed War Step.

"We are in fact," said he, "now at war with Germany's allies." Senator Stone's only reservation was that such action by Congress should be in harmony with the policy of the executive branch of the government. Although he voted against the declaration of war on Germany.

Supports Administration.
Senator Stone has reiterated that the war once begun has his whole support. His statement was taken as indicative of the agitation for war on Germany's allies, which will face Congress when it convenes Dec. 3.

Austrians in West.
"I have understood that some if not a large number of Austrian troops have been on the Western front," said Mr. Stone. "They may now or soon be actually fighting against American forces, the two forces being at each other. Anyway, Austrians are desperately engaged in Italy, which is one of our allies just as much as France or England."

Sees Long Session.
To have war formally declared against Germany's allies also, said Senator Stone, would simplify matters of domestic concern such as measures to prevent espionage. New or amended war tax legislation, according to Senator Stone, who also is a member of the Senate finance committee, should not be undertaken until after a thorough survey of the situation. He said there was no doubt that in many respects the new war tax law can be improved and probably will be to remove inequalities and injustices. The session, he predicted, would be a long one.

BIG BILLS BEFORE CONGRESS

War Legislation to Keep New Session a Busy One.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Continued stupendous appropriation bills and other war legislation will feature the session of congress which is to open Dec. 3, in the opinion of leaders here. In the wake of these right of way measures a host of others of domestic concern, such as prohibition and woman suffrage, will be pressed for consideration. Sentiment developed among representatives already here in favor of a declaration of war against Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria doubtless will be strengthened by the return of the party congressmen from a visit to the battlefronts. It is expected that the president may deal with the subject in his opening address to the joint session of congress.

Ban on Teuton Insurance Companies.
Washington, Nov. 27.—All Teuton insurance companies in the United States, excepting life, are ordered liquidated by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo. Life insurance companies are confined to continuing existing contracts and the liquidated concerns are placed under Alien Property Custodian A. Mitchell Palmer's control. The action is a blow at German espionage in this country. For months it has been suspected the enemy obtained information through Teuton insurance inspectors.

KEEP ON KNITTING, SAYS RED CROSS

WAR COUNCIL WANTS IMMENSE NUMBER OF SWEATERS AND OTHER ARTICLES.

PURCHASES HAVE BEEN HEAVY

French Troops Need All That Can Be Spared—Tremendous Work Carried on by Red Cross Makes Negligible Its Few Mistakes.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—It is evident that the American Red Cross which is doing such a great work for the armed forces of the United States is disturbed because of the still repeated and fast circulating stories started on their way by pro-German influences to handicap the great humanitarian work.

Recently the war department and the navy department found that some people in the United States were under the impression that the authorities did not supply warm clothing to the soldiers and that it was because of this failure of the government to do what of course it is its duty to do, that it was necessary for the women to knit sweaters and wristlets for the soldiers and sailors. In other words, the story which came was that the government was neglecting its duty and was depending on private work to keep the men of the military forces warm. Naturally the army and navy authorities resented the implication that the government did not supply its soldiers with plenty of warm clothing.

The secretaries of war and navy said that the men under the charge of their departments were supplied with warm material and in sufficient quantity, but that the extra comforts of sweaters and wristlets furnished by the Red Cross were exceedingly grateful to the men and gave them an opportunity of change, and, so far as the sweaters were concerned, an opportunity for additional warmth in cases of severe weather and under conditions which no one could foresee.

Statements Were Misunderstood.

The women of the country, therefore, should continue knitting sweaters, wristlets and socks, and other things which they turn out by means of the long needles. The report which has just been mentioned did some harm to the knitting service because the statements of the war and navy departments apparently were misunderstood. Secretary Daniels has appointed a special naval officer to look after the distribution of the knitted articles which the women make for the sea forces. So far as the army is concerned the authorities and the Red Cross together see that every knitted article which is made reaches a soldier.

Only today there comes from the war council of the American Red Cross a statement that it is imperative that all sweaters, wristlets and socks that possibly can be made by the women of the country shall be turned into the supply department of the Red Cross at the earliest possible date. This notice was sent to the division managers who receive the articles from the knitting chapters of women.

Some persons seem to be under the impression that every soldier and sailor by this time must have been supplied with a sweater. Possibly this thought is natural because in most places nearly every woman seems to be knitting. However, in the notice sent by the war council of the Red Cross to its division managers it is said that in addition to the sweaters which have been knitted by the women of the chapters, it has been necessary to buy 550,000 sweaters in the market.

French Need Knitted Goods.

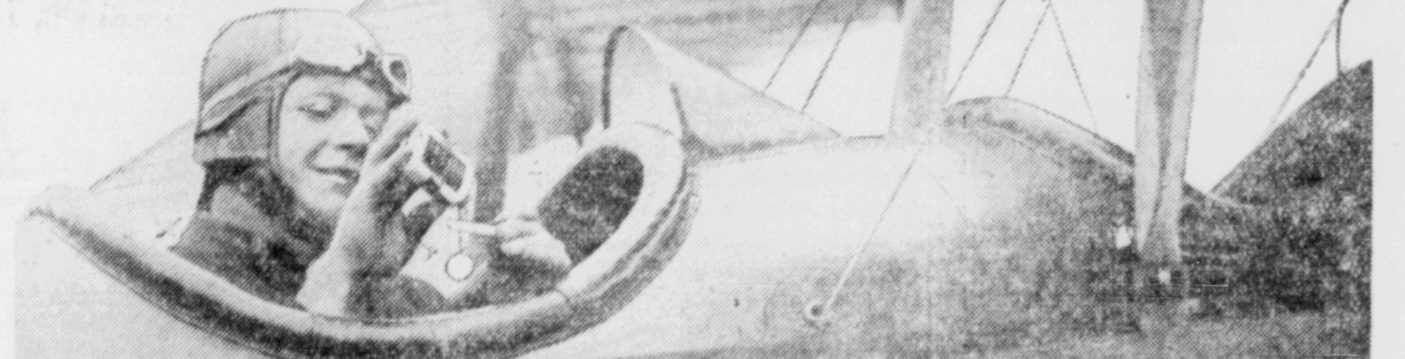

From France comes a great demand for sweaters and knitted goods for the brave French soldiers who because of the conditions existing in their country today are unable to secure the comforts which so readily are given to the men of the American forces. Wool is hard to obtain in France and while the French women are devoted, they cannot work without material. The war council of the Red Cross finishes its statement to division managers with this sentence:

"We call upon the women to give us their very best effort from now until at least January 1, that we may be able to furnish our men with these comforts, and have some to spare for dire needs in France."

There have been some criticisms of the methods of the Red Cross in various parts of the country, and it has been the duty of the writer to attempt to find out how justifiable some of these criticisms are. The expansion of the Red Cross work within the last few months has been paralleled only by the expansion of army and navy work. Little wonder is it, therefore, that a few mistakes have been made here and there, but these mistakes have been far fewer than would naturally be expected in connection with a work so tremendous and all-embracing.

The Red Cross not only is engaged in the work of supplying comforts for the soldiers, but it is engaged in a dozen and one other activities. There is little conception, apparently, by the civilian of the enormous supply of surgical dressings and other hospital articles which is needed.

The Red Cross workers, most of whom are volunteers, have undertaken to make every American soldier's life a bit brighter on the Christmas day by a gift of "comfort and convenience."

Two Things to Learn.

Learn these two things: Never be discouraged because good things get on so slowly here, and never fail daily to do that good which lies next to your hand.—George McDonald.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder is troubling you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.
